TANNER'S STORE NEWS

We expect a full car of peaches tomorrow morning, probably the last large lot we will receive until late peaches are ready. Last Saturday we undertook too much and were not able to give perfect satisfaction with our deliveries. We expect to have different arrangements, however, tomorrow, and will have special help and special teams to attend to peach orders only, in this way it will not interfere with our regular orders, which we will endeavor to get out on schedule time. We shall make special inducements to have the trade carry away these peaches themselves. We have direct word from the growers that peaches are rotting on the trees quite badly and that the later variety will not be so large, so it is to your interest to buy them now. We shall make a very special price on these peaches tomorrow; it will more than pay your street car fare

Friday the father of the girl, John McFarland, was ordered to police headquarters with a view of having him take Maggie to Cleveland. Mrs. Kain brought the child, and when the father attempted to take charge of Maggie, Mrs. Kain assaulted him with an umbrella. Police interfered.

City Employees Are Happy.

Treasurer, City Clerk and Solicitor

"Got Together" and Planned a Plan.

In No Way Has Restraining Order Been Disregarded.

The city's employees, all excepting those in the health department, were paid Friday.

Early in the morning City Clerk Isbell, Treasurer Berger and Solicitor Esqate held a conference and decided that payment of claims could be made without any violation of the restraining order from Court. The order merely directed that the $50,000 borrowed for the General fund should not be distributed among the special funds. This order was not disregarded. The $50,000 will be applied to payment of the original loan of $50,000 for the General fund, and the other claims will be paid from the August apportionment in the General and Special funds, as far as they go. Hearing in the injunction case has been set for Monday. In all, about $66,000 was or will be paid out independent of the injunction.

Twelve hundred dollars was divided among the City Commissioners. This represents their pay for the past two months. Messrs. McMillen, Houser and Wilson each received $300; Mr. McFarland, $58.08, and ex-Commissioner McGarry $241.92.

CAVED IN.

Inland Man Seriously Hurt In a Clay Bank.

(Special Correspondence.)

Inland, Sept. 3.—Farmers in this section are nearly all through with their fall plowing and sowing wheat will be next in order. Crops were not quite up to the average of the last few years in yield, but prices, except for wheat will make up for shortage in yield, so that the farmers in this locality at least have nothing to complain of. The wheat yields reported in the Democrat from other parts of the county, as being great are common yields here. Twenty-five to twenty-eight bushels per acre have been grown by a number of farmers here. Oats is not yielding much above forty bushels per acre. Corn will be a fair crop. Potatoes are not good.

Township schools commenced Monday, with the following teachers: No. 1, Herbert Miller; No. 2, Wm. Carr; No. 3, S. J. King; No. 4, Miss Witters; No. 5, Geo. Lauby; No. 6, Rob. Foster and Oscar Raber; No. 7, Mr. Wise; No. 8, Mr. Warley; No. 9, Mr. Carmany; No. 10, Homer Stake; No. 11, Fred Sweeten; No. 12, Dora Semler; No. 13, Arnold Lauby; No. 14, Edith Kauffman; Prof. Orin in the High school and Miss Ollie Stump; teacher in music.

A cave-in in H. B. Camp's clay bank caught Henry Deutsch and broke both bones of his right leg below the knee, which prevents his going to the Pan-American Exposition and will lay him up for some time to come.

Camp meeting at Highland park broke up Monday.

Daniel Weaver, who has been on the sick list for the past ten days, is improving slowly. Dr. Bauer, of Uniontown, is treating him.

Dr. Tobins and Hiram Miller and wife, spent last week at Buffalo.

I. N. Johnston, wife and son Jay, who were visiting with mother and sister here, returned to their home in Roanoke, Va., last week. H. G. Johnston, wife and Mrs. Johnston's mother, who were here at the same time, will make a trip to the Pan-American before returning to their home at Corsicana, Tex. Mr. Johnston is engaged in drilling oil wells and manufacturing drilling machinery for the great Beaumont oil territory.

MIRACLE.

Visitor Fell Into a Stone Quarry.

Dropped 40 Feet But Escaped Without a Bruise.

By following the balloon after the ascension at Summit lake park Thursday night, W. H. Earnsberger, of Barberton, very nearly lost his life. The balloon was blown in a westerly direction, over the hill west of the park, a crowd, of whom Earnsberger was one, followed.

Gazing upward as he went, he did not see the stone quarry which yawned before him and he walked off into space.

Others who were with him hurried back to the park to get ropes, expecting to find his mangled body on the rocks below.

In the meantime Earnsberger, who had fallen nearly 40 feet into a deep pool of muck and water, and landed unhurt, except for the shaking up he had received, walked out the driveway at the lower end of the quarry, and returned to the park. His clothes were ruined and had he fallen off at any other point, he would certainly have been killed. The affair caused much excitement for a time.
